DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Venson et al. (Usd484284) in view of Richards (US5775263).

Regarding claim 5, Venson et al. disclose an exercise wheel defining an interior cylindrical surface having a slip resistant material exposed on an interior cylindrical surface of the assembly.

Venson et al. does not disclose a second layer of abrasive material.

Richards discloses a second layer of abrasive material (col 4, line 65-col 5 line 5) discloses a layer of carpet, which is generally made of a rough backing with the carpet fibers woven in and out of it to form the pile of the carpet. The backing layer, because of its rough texture and open weave, would be abrasive.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the teaching of Richards of a second layer of abrasive material (The backing material of the carpet) to the invention of Venson et al. in order to make the device more effective at trimming the nails of an animal in a shorter period of time, and to make the device safer for an animal by decreasing the possibility of the animal slipping while exercising.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
